The little girl was dropping corn for her father, when she discovered the seven men at the end of the row waiting for them to ap-proach. Informing him, the father turned to flee, and was shot down. The party then took a person named Taylor, also at work in the field, carried him into the woods and hung him to a tree, and then field. The father of this man Flowers is said to have murdered a negro in Karnes County two years ago, and was compelled to fly from there in conse-quence. This may afford some clue to the summary execution of the son.

The great fight took place at Fernborough,

The fight lasted two hours and six minutes. Thirty-seven rounds were fought, when the people rushed into the ring and Sayers's referees crowded out. The pugilists were then ordered to desist fighting by the referees.

Both men went to grass on the last round. Sayers fell almost every round. On the first dozen rounds Sayers was knocked completely off his legs.

Tom's arms, owing to the severe fighting, suffered much. Heenan's eyes were quite blackened up toward the last, and at the last round he was quite bland. Heenan showed splendid fighting throughout the contest, fleenan shows much more punishment than Hernan shows much more punishment than Sayers. Tom drew the first blood. On the tenth round Heenan completely lifted Tom from the ground, and threw him heavily with from the ground, and threw him heavily with the greatest ease. The eighth round lasted twenty minutes, ending in Ton's going down. Seventh round lasted thirteen min-utes. Wonderful skill was displayed on both sides. Tom was easily knocked off his pins. It is unknown whether they will fight again. The fight was decided to be a drawn one. The opinion of the public was divided, re-garding who was the best man.

The Float.—This long projected fight between Heenan and Sayers took place yesterday. By four o'clock in the morning the visitors to the scene of action were conveyed from the London bridge station, and they alighted near Fer-aborough. The fight lasted two hours and eight minutes, during which thirty-nine rounds were fought. Sayers drew first blood, and Heenan claimed the first knock down. Sayers did not show any signs of punishment, but his right arm was much injured by his attempts to ward off Heenan's trementions blows. Heenan once got the champlon's head under his arm, and seemed about to strangle him. The referee subsequently quitted the ring, and declared a drawn battle, but two or three more skirmishes were made, Heenan seeming indifferent as to whether he hit Sayers or his seconds.

The mob of people at the fight was immense. Long before four o'clock this (Tuesday) morning, London Bridge Station was literally besisged by spectators, to witness the fight, and at half-past four precisely the first special train was dispatched, containing about one thousand persons, and after traveling for about two and a half hours, arrived at a place called Ash, near Farnham, where all of the people got out of the train, when, after crossing several fields and ditches, arrived at a saug meadow, in which a rone

"The indignation of the Americans here, and in fact a large portion of the British public, is loudly and vehemently expressed.

"The ring was broken into by a pack of thiexes, who used the excuse to rob every one. It was well known that Mr. Heenan would not be allowed to carry the champion's belt out of the country, and the Englishmen who had bet their all on Sayers, as soon as they found that their champion was losing, resorted to the most unfair means, keeping Heenan back and pulling him down.

"A meeting of the Americans will take place in London to-night, and you may expect to see some controversies in the papers,

"Mr. George Wilkes will demand the belt for Heenan, and will furnish testimony to prove that he is entitled to it. Of one thing your readers may be certain—Heenan's rights will be properly attended to, and his position will be maintained to the last."

The Tribine says: "A gentleman now at the St. Nicholas, and who witnessed the fight, says that when Heenan had got Sayers into such a position that he must inevitably have won the battle, John Morrissey cut the ropes, and let Heenan fall to the ground."

The Pany Express.

Sr. Joseph, April 28.—The Pony Express due here yesterday, has not yet arrived and is now twenty-four hours behind time. The delay is probably caused by high water in the mountain streams.

The express which left here to-night, took out a full summary of news, including detailed accounts of the great prize fight, and other European advices up to the 18th inst, which will put the news from London and Liverpool through to California in the short space of twenty days.

The poor-house as Starbridge, Massachu-setts, was totally destroyed by fire the other night, and a deaf and dumb girl perished in the flames. Loss $1,500; no insurance.

Wrangling over the Platform. TEST-VOTE ON THE RECOMMITMENT THREE REPORTS BY THE COMMITTEE

Inflammatory Southern Oratory No Change for the Better in Douglas's Prospects.

Immense Confusion, but no Conclusion.

[The following portion of yesterday's proceeding fulled to come to hand until to-day.]
CHARLESTON, April 27.—Mr. Pugh concluded his remarks by saying to the South, that they wanted no meeting on board the thip, but if the South chose to go out of it, they will regret their departure; but part has much processed. they must.

Mr. Cochrane, of New York, then took the floor, and proposed his resolution as a substitute for the majority report; but it was leclared out of order. Mr. Bishop, of Connecticut, moved the pre-vious question on the platform, which caused a tremendous uproar and excitement, a dozen embers being on the floor at once shouting at the top of their voices.

The Southern members demanded that the Convention should aljourn, to take a vote on the platform at noon to-morrow.

A vote on States was demanded on a motion to adjourn.

During the calling of the roll, the noise and confusion was unprecedented.

The motion was carried—ayes 148%; nays

CHARLESTON, April 28.—The Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock.
Mr. Moffatt, of Va., and Josiah Randall both claimed the floor, which was given to Mr. Bigler, of Penn., who proceeded to address the Convention in favor of reconciling harmony, and preserving the integrity of the Democratic party.

He was interrupted by Mr. Bishop, of Conn., who claimed the floor on the ground that he moved the previous question at the time of the adjournment.

Mr. Bigler then introduced the Bayard resolutions, hoping that they may be the means of conciliating. He moved, as a means of testing the sense of the Convention, that they be referred back to the Committee, with instructions to report the Bayard resolutions to the Convention in an hour.

Mr. Richardson, of Ill., denounced the motion as out of order. notion as out of order. Half an hour was then spent in discussing

The Chair decided Mr. Bigler in order, who demanded the previous question.

Mr. Montgomery moved that the motion be laid on the table.

he laid on the table.

Mr. Phillips, of Penn., inquired whether the motion would not carry the whole subject, resolutions and all, with it.

Mr. Stuart, of Michigan, objected to the inquiry, saying, we will ascertain that when the vote is taken.

After further debate, the Chair stated that the motion to lay on the table the previous ne motion to lay on the table the previous uestion, carries with it the several platmany best of the South as great an entropy of the South as the traitor (Seward) what would be the effect of the previous question. Representing the principal slave district of Maryland, he wanted the opportunity to reply to the remarks made here by his colleague (Johnson) who he charged with misrepresenting his constituents at home, and stultifying his own previously expressed opinions.

At eleven o'clock Florida demanded a vote ment.

Ohio demanded that the vote on States be taken by States, which resulted as follows:

The Douglas men voted against the adjournment, and the opposition of Douglas in tion, requesting, but, they contended, not in-structing, their delegates to vote as a unit. Without any decision as what point the yote was proceeded with, resulting as fol-

Ayes 300; nays 1, from Maryland.

So the main question was ordered.

The question then recurred on the motion of Mr. Bigler to recommit the whole subject to the Committee.

The subject embraced is as follows:

First—Affirming the Cincinnati Platform. Second—That all citizens have a right to settle in the Territories without their rights of person or property being impaired either by Congressional or Territorial legislation.

Third—That the Democratic party stands pledged to the doctrine that it is the duty of the Government to maintain all Constitutional rights of property, of whatever kind in the Territories, and to enforce the decisions of the Supreme Court in reference thereto.

The fourth, fifth, sixth and, Seventh resolutions are the third, fourth, fifth and sixth of those reported by the minority.

The vote was announced as follows, amid great excitement: ayes 15½ nays 151. Motion carried.

stand.

The President decided that the vote did not carry the instructions to report within an hour, and that the vote would now recur on this part of Mr. Bigler's motion.

Mr. Stuart, of Michigan, moved that a vote be taken on each of the resolutions. [Sensation]

When Georgia was called, the minority of the delegation protested against the vote of the State being given as a unit, on the ground that they were requested, not instructed, to vote as a unit.

A debate on this point ensued which checked the progress of the vote, and at half-past one o'clock the President decided that a request in the Southern States was equiva-lent to an instruction, and that Georgia must vote as a unit—being a loss of two Donglas votes.

The vote was then announced as follows: ayes 242; nays 47. So the platforms were all referred back to the Committee without instructions.

A motion next came up to instruct the Committee to report at four o'clock this afternoon.

Afternoon.

Mr. Phillips, of Pis, moved to adjourn to four a clock.

A feerpin delegate moved to adjourn till ten o'clock Monday.

The motions were, however, withdrawn,

Mr. Avery, of North Carolina, reported from a majority of the Committee, and in doing so urged upon Northern delegates to recollect that the slaves who new grow cotton in Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia, are children of slaves who were formerly slaves in their own States.

The report of the majority is a combination of those of Mesers. Bayard, of Delaware, Cochrane, of New York, and Bigler, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Samuels, of Iowa, presented to eschew-Mr. Samuels, of Iowa, presented it eschawing Congressional intervention, and deciaring that whether Congress or the Territorial Legislature have the power to interfers, depends upon the decisions of the Supreme Courts of the United States, which decision they piedge the Democratic party to sustain and shide by. He proceeded at some length to address Southern members, appealing to them not to persist in demanding an obstruction that will drive one-half of the Democracy of the North into the arms of the Black Republicans.

tion that will drive one-half of the Democracy of the North into the arms of the Black Republicans.

His speech was a powerful carnest and effective appeal, free from all bitterness, and was listened to with the most marked interest and attention by the Southern members.

When Mr. Samuels had concluded, Mr. Butter, of Massachusetts, presented enotherminority report, signed by Illinois, Minnesota, Massachusetts and Indiana, consisting of the Cincinnati Platform pure and simple, which he offered as a substitute for both the majority and minority reports.

Mr. Stevens, of Oregon, then obtained the floor, amid the struggle of a hundred contestants, and proceeded to give his reasons for sustaining the report of the majority.

Rolland J. Breat, of Maryland, took the ground that although he was opposed to squatter sovereignty, he must still, as a matter of policy, sustain, the position of non-intervention. Four years ago the South demanded this principle! He cantioned them upon the result of their extreme views; they could lead to nothing but the election of a Black Republican President.

Mr. Burrows of Arkanser, followed in a speech on the Southern side of the question, commencing at twenty minutes to eight o'clock. He maintained that the South had upbeld the Democratic party from the beginning of the Government to the present day; that the South had been foremest in fighting the battles of the country, and that in fact the Democratic party owes every thing to the South. The South has extended the boundaries of the country, and has furnished the means at all times of paying the debts of the country. His remarks were of the most violent and inflammatory character, and in the impatience to come to a vote, the noise and confusion, clapping and stamping, was so great that he could scarcely be heard beyond the restrum. He continued despite the noise, to speak at the hight of his voice.

He considered the Northera Democrats on worse than the Black Republicans. He did not care whether the Black Republicans whipped them, or they whipped the Black Republicans. Of the two he considered the Black Republicans of the most spee and manly feel of the South. As to Douglas, he
